

Training courses in Social Research Methods

The SRA offers over 100 training courses a year, mostly at foundation level. Courses are led by experts, and will enhance your practical skills in qualitative and quantitative methods. Popular one-day courses include:

- QUALITATIVE DATA ANALYSIS
- IMPACT EVALUATION
- CONDUCTING FOCUS GROUPS
- QUESTIONNAIRE DESIGN
- DATA VISUALISATION
- NARRATIVES AND STORYTELLING
- QUALITATIVE INTERVIEWING
- THEORY-BASED EVALUATION

This is just a sample of our courses – we cover many more topics.

Courses are held across the UK including Cardiff, Edinburgh, London, Manchester and Nottingham.

Cost is £270 per day (with a 25% discount for SRA members).

SEE ALL OUR CURRENT COURSES: www.the-sra.org.uk/training

MEMBERSHIP of the SRA starts from £25 a year. Find out more: www.the-sra.org.uk/join

About the SRA

We're the professional membership association for social researchers, with 1250+ members across the UK and Ireland. Members come from a wide range of sectors including government, public bodies, research agencies and institutions, charities, academia and the independent sector.

The SRA was founded in 1978 to promote high standards of applied social research, and to represent, support, connect and inform members.

We run training courses, conferences and events, publications and more.

www.the-sra.org.uk

 @TheSRAOrg